

Iowa votes on the prohibition question to-day. The general impression is that the amendment will be carried.

There will be three Democratic candidates for Congress in the new Second district which General Bragg represents. The General will contest the nomination, and A. K. Delaney, and Judge D. W. Small will enter the field against him. There will be a lively canvass among the aspiring Democratic statesmen, in which the present incumbent will doubtless come out ahead.

The Milwaukee Evening Wisconsin has come out in a new form—a quarto—and we think is much improved in appearance. There will possibly be many who will object to this form of the paper, but to us it seems to be an improvement. The make-up is exceedingly handsome which will make the paper very attractive. We are glad to note that the paper is in a very prosperous condition, a success which it has fairly won.

The new law in reference to the Chinese is in some particulars a disgrace to this country and a black spot upon the Congress which enacted it. There are about six thousand Chinese laborers (not 60,000 thousand as some papers have it) now under contract in Cuba, and they wish to return home, and have asked permission of the United States government to pass through this country and sail for China from San Francisco, which will save them thousands of miles. The Cabinet discussed the question with the President, and finally decided that under the recent law in reference to the Chinese, they could not even pass through the United States! They will have to go by the way of England, which will greatly lengthen the journey. When fourth-of-July orators begin to spread the American eagle over all the country and talk about the United States being the home for the oppressed of all principalities and powers, they should remember the decision of the Cabinet, and give that a little airing. It is an excellent subject to talk about just for a change.

MR. FOOTE ANSWER.

On the 24th of June the Gazette printed in an editorial note, the fact that an application would be made to Governor Rusk for the pardon of Mr. A. Foote, who is now serving a term of five years in the penitentiary, having been convicted of forgery at La Crosse. The Gazette has a good deal of sympathy for Mr. Foote for reasons stated in the editorial note mentioned, and in that note expressed the hope that the sentence would be mitigated one-half. There were some portions of the article to which Mr. Foote objected, and in justice to him we print the following letter:

To the Editors.

WAUKESHA, WIS., June 25.
GENTLEMEN: I thank you cordially for your extended notice and good wishes. But you have little conception of the surprise it is to a man to "see himself as others see him," especially if the photo, is of a different character than he anticipated. But the imagination of your writer "takes the cake," for sure. I have no living relatives—never was in a brawl or quarrel—other than that engendered by newspaper competition, and then always on the defensive, and have learned from the Gazette, for the first time that I had so far forgotten the time-honored characteristics of a meek and lowly disciple of the craft as to be ungentlemanly. As my newspaper neighbors never accused me of that, though probably it slipped them, as they did accuse me of most everything else, after I was where I could not come back at them.
But I am indeed grateful for your generous notice, and trust you will not take offense at my blunt way of coming to the front.
Fraternally and Gratefully Yours,
A. FOOTE.

We are certain that it will be the sincere hope of the fraternity throughout the State that Governor Rusk will exercise that kindly spirit which will grant the pardon prayed for by Mr. Foote and his friends.

A WORD ABOUT JANESVILLE AND THE NORTHWESTERN RAILWAY.

The business men of Janesville, with a good deal of justice on their side, are beginning to criticize the management of the Northwestern railway so far as the Janesville passenger trains are concerned. The complaints are based upon the fact that there are four passenger trains each way over the Madison division of the Northwestern each day except Sunday, and one each way on Sunday. Janesville makes connections with two day trains each way except Sunday, and with no night trains. The people of Janesville ask that one of the night trains pass through this city, and they do not think it unreasonable to ask this much when they bear in mind that when they subscribed money to buy the right of way to Afton, they were promised connection with all passenger trains on that line. Beside this, it is no hardship on the company to run one of these night passenger trains through Janesville, for the distance between Chicago and Afton is the same via Janesville as via Beloit, so that no distance is saved by running through Beloit, and certainly no one will deny that Janesville is quite as important a city, when passengers and freight are considered, as Beloit, and contributes quite as much to the revenues of the company as any city on the line between Chicago and Elroy, or between Chicago and Oshkosh.

Under the present programme, if any of our citizens wish to make Chicago in the night, they must go over the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul via Milton Junction and Milwaukee, or ride on the tail end of a cattle train from nine o'clock p. m. till next morning without sleep, or take a team and drive to Afton to get one of the through trains on that division. There seems to be an injustice about this condition of things which has escaped the notice of the officials of the Northwestern. A glance at the time-table would convince them that in some important particulars Janesville has hardly been treated fairly as to passenger trains. The officials do not intend to do the city any injustice in this matter, nor to take any course on which complaints can be founded. It is to the interest of the company to give Janesville, as well as all other cities on their railway lines, all the passenger train accommodation they can afford, and the business men of this city have the assurance that when the attention of the Northwestern is called to the fact that Janesville is laboring under disadvantages for want of a night and Sunday train to and from Chicago, that the company will make the change which will answer the ends of justice and promote the interests of the company and the city.

GUTEAU.

What Dr. Hicks Says about the Wretch—The Death Warrant.

WASHINGTON, June 25.—The Star publishes the following: "The Rev. Dr. Hicks, of the Tabernacle, prefaced his sermon by asking the prayers of his congregation for Charles J. Guiteau, 'who will, as I believe, be hanged Friday next. Pray that his (Guiteau's) mind may be spiritually and truly illumined; that God may have mercy upon him.' The Doctor added that he desired here and now to enter his solemn and earnest protest against the bloodthirsty, vindictive, fiendish spirit that seems to have taken possession of so large a portion of the people of the country. He denounced this almost national clamor for Guiteau's blood as being not only unchristian but heathenish and inhuman. It is murder under cover and protection of the law."

Guiteau said to Dr. Hicks: "Don't go to President Arthur any more. Let him come to you. I have nothing more to ask of him. It has irretrievably decided I appeal to a higher court. God will judge between him and me."

Dr. O. P. Hathaway, of Chicago, writes Miss Chevalier, strongly approving her efforts to secure a respite.

Guiteau's death warrant has been prepared by Mr. W. E. Williams, deputy clerk of the District of Columbia Court. It is as follows:

In the Supreme Court of the District of Columbia, May 22, 1882:

United States against Charles J. Guiteau—No. 14,056—murder.

The President of the United States.

To the Warden of the United States Jail of the District of Columbia, greeting:

Whereas, Charles J. Guiteau has been indicted of felony and murder by him done and committed, and has been thereupon arraigned, and upon such arraignment has pleaded not guilty, and has been lawfully convicted thereof; and whereas judgment of said court has been given that the said Charles J. Guiteau shall be hanged by the neck until he is dead, therefore, you are hereby commanded that upon Friday, the thirtieth (30) day of June, in the year of our Lord, one thousand eight hundred and eighty-two (A. D. 1882), between the hours of twelve (12) o'clock meridian and two (2) o'clock post meridian of the same day, you, the said Charles J. Guiteau, now being in your custody in the common jail of the District of Columbia, you convey to the place prepared for his execution, within the walls of the said jail of the District of Columbia, and that you cause execution to be done upon the said Charles J. Guiteau, in your custody, so being in all things according to said judgment, and this you are by no means to omit, at your peril; and do you return this writ unto the Clerk's office of said court, so indorsed as to show you obeyed the same. Witness: W. K. Carter, Chief Justice of said court.

RAILWAY DISASTER.

ST. PAUL, Minn., June 25.—A Willmar special says: "The complete list of the killed by Saturday's accident is as follows: George Floody, engineer; B. Rasmussen, S. J. Tole, John Schneider, John Holland, Hans Peterson, John Dahl, Andrew Johnson, John Peterson, Jeno Wage, S. Therson, M. Jensen, O. O. Lagos, laborers. Fifteen are under the care of Dr. Frost. Appearances indicate that the engine was ditched by reason of a broken tender-axle, though a high rate of speed was maintained. All the trainmen except the engineer escaped. Total wounded of consequence eight, of whom three will almost certainly die, which will bring the total fatality to seventeen. It is believed that two or three more dead are under the wreck in the mud and water. Not a man on the gravel train—the number is not absolutely known, but it is between forty and fifty—escaped without a cut or bruise of some sort. The escape from death of John Amp-tere, the fireman, is miraculous. He was shoveling coal into the furnace when the train went off, and was on the tender. The tender went straight into the pool, and the caboose on top of it and him, several feet following. He was fixed immovably first, but in some way the weight of the cars and caboose was kept from resting on his body, and he was the first man rescued, being as stated badly bruised, but without any fracture or internal injuries.

Dr. J. H. Murphy, of St. Paul, and the Willmar and Afton physicians have worked nobly, and done all that skill could devise; or humanity suggest to aid the wounded and mitigate the pain of the dying. The railway officials also have shown every willingness to do everything in their power to lessen this, claimed by many to have been the most fatal railway accident ever known in Minnesota. A coroner's inquest is now investigating the cause of the disaster. It transpires that Conductor Geran was arrested to secure his safety, as threats were made against him by friends of the men killed.

WILLIAMS AND CASWELL.

Special dispatch to the Chicago Inter-Ocean.

WASHINGTON, June 25.—Congressman Williams, of the First district of Wisconsin, has written a magnanimous letter in response to that from Mr. Caswell, published in the Janesville Gazette and the Inter Ocean a few days ago. It will show that there is no feeling over the matter of the succession in Congress. There will be no "wah" in the First Congressional district this year. The following is the letter in question:

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES, Washington, D. C., June 25, 1882.—N. Smith, Esq., Editor of Gazette. MY DEAR SIR: I have this moment read in your issue of the 20th inst., a letter from my colleague, Mr. Caswell, in response to a letter from you to him of the 16th inst. In this letter friend Caswell speaks of an "armistice." This implies a state of war. It that exists, I now learn it for the first time. Mr. Caswell was generous enough of his own accord to speak very kindly to me of the probable result in the First district this fall, and when he intimated that he thought he would make no formal withdrawal, I heartily acquiesced in that view, as I had no desire that he should. In response to inquiries I wrote that there would be no trouble between him and me, as I could not then, and cannot now, conceive there will be. When it was announced in Janesville that Mr. Caswell would not be a candidate, I promptly wrote expressing regret at the announcement, especially that it had been made in our country. I also at once expressed the same regret to Mr. Caswell, who told me not to let it trouble me. When the dispatch reviewed the situation in various districts of the State went to Chicago and St. Paul and was finally reproduced in the Gazette, disposing of Mr. Caswell as a candidate, I was again annoyed, and went to him and assured him that I knew nothing of it, and was as much disturbed by it as he could be. On inquiry, I learned that it was an original St. Paul dispatch. He that as it may, I knew nothing of it, until I saw it in the Chicago papers. In response to letters from home, I have said what I most sincerely believed, that in the coming canvass there would be no antagonism between Mr. Caswell and myself. I recently joined him in securing an appointment for Jefferson county which rested somewhat in doubt between me and the other counties, though I think Jefferson was entitled to it, and received letters from there saying he had accorded to me a full share of credit in securing the appointment. I only refer to this as evidence of the perfect accord which I supposed to exist between us; and do now. Mr. Caswell is most certainly entitled to the undivided and ungrudging support of Jefferson county if he will allow his name to be used, and will without doubt receive it. I have never heard any other opinion expressed, and most assuredly have entertained no other myself. I have received no letters from that county and expecting none inquiring as to my candidacy as a condition precedent to the support of Mr. Caswell. If he is a candidate, I repeat, he will receive the hearty support of Jefferson county, as he certainly should.

In conclusion, I may as well say that I have been retained in Congress with a generosity scarcely paralleled in our State. I appreciate this, and believe I have the manhood to stand up to all it implies. I have often said that I had no patient on a seat in Congress. Whenever in the sober judgment of the people of the various counties of the district a change is desirable, I hope I shall never be found trying to avert it by undue importunities or any of the devices commonly known as political maneuvering. I am deeply sensible of the generous expression of the district. Now, let the people look the situation over, and whether the conclusion be to select Mr. Caswell, myself or any other of the able gentlemen who would so well fill the position, let us all cheerfully acquiesce, and above all things, in the midst of these dog days "let us have peace."

Very truly yours,

C. G. WILLIAMS.

JOINING THE STRIKERS.
JERSEY CITY, June 25.—This morning about 200 trackmen employed by the New York, Lake Erie and Western railroad, joined the strikers. They had been receiving $1.10 per day. They demand $1.50.
The switchmen and brakemen employed by the Erie railroad company in the yards on the east and west side of the Bergen tunnel have joined the strikers. The Pennsylvania company succeeded in inducing about seventy-five of its hands to resume work. A number of freight trains on the road were moving this morning.

WIND AND RAIN.

ROCKFORD, June 25.—The great storm that swept over this city and the neighboring towns on Saturday did serious damage, but mainly to market gardens, including small fruit orchards. Mr. E. H. Skinner estimated the loss on his apples and cherries at $4,000. Mr. W. H. Lester, who resides about a mile from this city to the northeast, and has been known for a number of years as the largest grower in the county in vegetables for the daily market, estimates his loss at the lowest figure as $2,000. In a large number of places throughout the county barns and buildings were blown down or struck by lightning and burned with their entire contents. Reports from the northern part of the county are coming into town daily, and the farmers have suffered great loss.

Koumiss.

The Tartars and some other equestrian tribes, from time immemorial it is said, have practiced the art of brewing a sort of beer from mare's milk; and in later times they have learned how to distill this beer and procure from it a very potent brandy. Koumiss is the native name of the mare's milk beer, and rack or raky of the koumiss brandy. This koumiss has at times become celebrated among enlightened people as a health reviver—a fact, by the way, not at all extraordinary, and not necessarily dependent upon any good quality of the koumiss. The regular doctors and the standard medicines fail us so often that we must not be too severe on the afflicted, who, in their despair, resort to quacks and the outlandish devices of the barbarians.

The following account of the preparation of koumiss by the Tartars is from the authority of a memoir by Dr. Grievé, in 1788, to the Royal Society of Edinburgh. Take any quantity of mare's milk, dilute it with a sixth of water, pour it into a wooden vessel, and add as a ferment about one-eighth of very sour milk, or better, of old koumiss, cover the vessel with a thick cloth and keep it at a moderate temperature. After standing twenty-four hours, a thick coagulum rises to the top, which must be well mixed in by beating and churning. After reposing for another day, it is again stirred till it becomes quite homogeneous, and in this state it forms the new koumiss, which has an agreeable sweetish acetic taste. Koumiss keeps well, and like other beers and wines, with proper care, improves with age in taste and becomes more alcoholic.

It is often preserved and transported in bottles made from horse-skin—a complete bottle is made from the skin of the hind-quarter, the log forming the neck of the bottle. We understand that it is the practice of some of the tribes to prepare koumiss in the skin bottles by simply filling up the bottle with fresh milk as fast as the koumiss is consumed. If the rate of using and filling up be properly regulated, a pretty uniform product would be secured, but of course it would be a sort of "all and all."

It is to be understood that mare's milk is the basis of the genuine koumiss, and no doubt genuine koumiss has a taste and odor peculiar to and characteristic of mare's milk. But as to chemical constitution, there is very little difference between mare's milk and that of other large mammals, and any kind of milk will produce koumiss closely resembling the genuine. The Tartars use mare's milk because of the abundance of horses in comparison with other available milk-giving animals. Horses and Tartars have been constant companions for ages, and thus it has come about that Tartars became experts in the difficult art of milking mares and then inventing koumiss. The ancient Scotch made a fermented drink out of milk, but not mare's milk, which it is proper to allude to here. The basis of the Scotch drink was whey, which was prepared by keeping it buried in the ground, undisturbed, for a year.

A drink under the name of koumiss has been on sale in some of the saloons of this city, which is prepared from a recipe substantially as follows: To one quart of milk add one table-spoonful of sugar and the same of brewer's yeast; when sufficiently fermented, preserve in strong bottles.

Wine whey, and innumerable punches, and Tom and Jerries, which contain milk as an essential ingredient, also are related to koumiss. And there are those, constantly increasing in number, who do not allow that milk can be improved for any useful purpose by the addition of alcohol.—Scientific American.

—Mr. and Mrs. Ed. F. Carpenter leave for Milwaukee, to-day, where they will attend the Thomas Concerts. While in Milwaukee, they will be the guests of Mr. A. V. H. Carpenter, general passenger agent of the C. M. and S. P. road.

—The expected ball game between the Beloit college club and a picked nine of junior base ballists from Janesville will probably not be played, as the home boys want to make something on the game, and the college club decline to play for money.

—Mr. John Watson is building a bridge to the sand deposit in the river, known as the island, which he proposes to remove, and use the material on the dam, from which it was washed away. This will prove a great benefit, as the island at present is an obstruction and to some extent forces the water back against the dam.

—A grand inter-State shooting tournament will be held at Milwaukee on Monday, July 31, and continue until Thursday inclusive. The management are doing everything to insure the success of the tournament, and as it will be the first of the kind ever held in this part of the country, their expectations will doubtless be realized.

—There are many complaints being made in regard to the great advance in the price of boxes in the post office, and many who receive heavy mails threaten to surrender their boxes and compel the postmaster to give them their mail through the general delivery. Mr. Patterson says he regrets the increase of the box rent but claims that it is an order from the Postoffice Department at Washington and he can't help it.

—Marshal Hogan was engaged all day on a novel piece of detective work. A prisoner had escaped from jail, without leaving any clue as to which road he had taken, or giving any notice of his intention to fly. The fugitive is described as of small stature weighing about two ounces and dressed in yellowish and greasy clothes. He is very much addicted to singing, and may be recognized as a canary which Mrs. Hogan has had for two years.

—A very pleasant party was given last night at the home of Mrs. Guernsey in honor of her son, Theodore P. Guernsey, who is now in a bank at Dubuque. He had been in Dakota on a visit and in returning home called at his old home in Janesville for a brief visit. There were about thirty present last night, the company being made up entirely of Mr. Guernsey's intimate friends. Anderson's band furnished the music for a dance, refreshments were served and a grand good time was thoroughly enjoyed by all present.

—In returning home last night from the Orpheus club concert at Evansville, Mr. H. P. Richardson met with an accident which, however, proved very slight. While going down an embankment at a very poor place in the road, the buggy was tipped over and the gentleman thrown out. With good presence of mind, he retained his hold on the reins, and prevented the horse from rearing. The lady who accompanied him, was just a little frightened, but was soon laughing at the untoward mishap. The buggy was slightly damaged.

—The preparations for the Fourth are being rapidly made by the various committees, and already nearly everything is arranged for the grandest celebration ever had here, or in any other section of the State. The finance committee have collected $350, but would prefer a little more, as incidental expenses are to be met, and it would be far preferable to have a surplus on hand instead of a deficiency. The parade during the day, the balloon ascension in the afternoon and the fireworks at night with a variety of other attractions, the speeches, etc., will serve to keep the large concourse of people who will attend, in constant expectation and pleasure.

THE CITY'S HEALTH.

Some Needed Sanitary Measures Proposed by the Health Officer.

Dr. Whiting, the city health officer, made some statements in conversation with the Gazette man to-day, the importance of which will be easily recognized.

The physicians are doing a thriving business, and though the mortality is not in any manner alarming, yet the prevalence of disease is evidence of the poor sanitary condition of the city. Dr. Whiting stated that he had nearly a score of complaints to submit to the Board of Health, every one of which demanded immediate attention. He attributed a great deal of the existing sickness to the filthy state of the sinks of private houses and hotels. A number of vaults in every portion of the city are reeking with the accumulations of years, some not having been cleaned, it is alleged for thirty years. The well water, in consequence is affected, the soil for twenty, thirty, and even more feet, being permeated with the noxious gases and odors generated by the excrementitious contents of the sinks. In rare instances, it is asserted the ground is saturated with those effluent impurities from neglected vaults, and the water rendered absolutely unfit for use. Bad and impure water is one of the most fruitful causes of unhealth, and its deleterious influence is easily recognized in the present state of the majority of wells.

When asked what remedial measures he proposed to recommend, Dr. Whiting said: "I would like to have the city council pass an ordinance compelling people to periodically clean their out houses. By placing latrines or boxed receptacles in the vaults, this would be an easy matter. The additional cost would be merely nominal, if indeed some one was not procured who would do the work for nothing, in order to secure the contents for fertilizing purposes. The sanitation of the city demands some such ordinance, and it should be passed and enforced at as early a day as possible. In summer, fermentation is more rapidly produced and therefore the vaults should be cleaned out oftener."

Mayor Croft was present at the conversation and seemed to be favorably impressed with the project. It is therefore, probable that some measures will be adopted at the next council meeting to remedy the evil.

The Board of Health.

There was to have been a meeting of the Board of Health last evening to take action upon some complaints and recommendations of the health officer, but owing to that gentleman's unavoidable absence the meeting was postponed. Mayor Croft called the meeting at the suggestion of Dr. Whiting, and immediately after organization adjourned as there was nothing before it, the health officer failing to keep up his record for punctuality. Immediately after adjournment, the doctor who never before in his career had been known to be so culpably negligent, was seen walking rapidly in the direction of the council chamber, with his arms loaded down with ominous papers. He was grieved and surprised to learn the hasty action of the Board, but generously forgave them for not waiting more than half an hour, on their explaining that the evening was a splendid beer evening and there was too long a time between drinks. Dr. Whiting in his turn stated that he had been unable to attend, as he had to attend to a female patient who called at his office. This unfortunate circumstance has developed a grievous condition of affairs, as the members of the Board have lost confidence in the Doctor's reputation for punctuality, and it will be difficult to get them together again.

The Orpheus in Evansville.

The concert given by the Orpheus club at Evansville last night, was a complete success in every particular, and a deserved recognition of the musical talent of Janesville. The club arrived in Evansville in due season, and found the concert hall crowded to its utmost capacity by an audience which demonstrated its appreciation in the most gratifying manner. Every seat in the house was taken, and a number were forced to stand. The programme contained some excellent selections from the most popular operas, all of which were agreeably rendered. The "Torpedo and the Whale" choruses from Olivette, the Anvil choruses from Trovatore, and the Bell choruses from the Bells of Corneville, were sung in a faultless manner and rapturously applauded. The entertainment reflected a great deal of credit upon Prof. C. G. Titcomb, the director, and every individual who contributed. The return from Evansville in carriages, was perhaps the most enjoyable portion of the evening. The ladies and gentlemen were happy at the merited success they had achieved, and though somewhat tired withal kept the merriment in an unceasing flow. Snatches of songs, warbled by cultured sopranos, and echoed by tenors, or caught up in the refrain by altos, baritones and basses, made the moonlight painted woods ring with the melody. The party reached home at about 2 o'clock in the morning. It is confidently expected that the club will repeat the concert here some evening next week.

DYSPEPTIC, nervous people, "out of sorts," COLIC'S LIEN'S LIQUID BEEF TONIC INVIGORATOR will cure. Ask for Colic's. Of druggists.

Milton.

—The college cadets went into camp in the grove on Cole's farm near the village on Thursday afternoon, and remained until Friday evening. They were under command of Drill Master W. P. Clarke, C. A. Armstrong and Lieut. C. J. Rollis. Regular military discipline was maintained, and during the night pickets were put out and guards were on duty. That the bold soldier boys had a good time there can be no doubt, and the encampment of the company next year will be on a larger scale and for a greater length of time.

—Prof. H. C. Curtis and wife, visit Milton friends and enjoy the pleasures incident thereto.
—J. C. Bartlett took possession of the express office last week and Mr. Brown has moved to Clinton with his family. Mr. Brown has made a good citizen here with him our best wishes for future health and prosperity in his new home and we commend him to the Clintonians as worthy of their patronage.

—The cheese factory commenced operations again on Saturday morning. The closing was not on account of a lack of patronage, but for other reasons.

—Miss Ellen Zuille, of Wonegan, is in town to enjoy commencement exercises.
